Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 07 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Most areas wet and windy on Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A chilly end to the day with daytime showers dying out. Wet and windy weather then reaches southwest England late evening and then spreads into Northern Ireland, Wales and much of England overnight. Touch of frost in the north.

Saturday:
Early wet and windy weather over Wales, Northern Ireland and England spreading into the rest of the UK. Some heavy rain, especially Wales. Northern Ireland and southeastern England drier later.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Bright with showers on Sunday. Very warm in the southeast. Sunshine and showers, heavy in places, on Monday and Tuesday, Breezy in the west and southwest at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.